Dear Colby:

I wanted to send this letter of thanks to you and your people in recognition of the fine job done in relamping my entire company last June. I was particularly worried about the impact it would have on our production schedule. My concerns were quickly put to rest after observing the orderly and efficient manner in which your crew did it's job. Having your resources committed to utilize our second shift allowed us to meet our existing deliveries and complete the job within a very short time schedule.

While this may not have been your largest project it was a large undertaking for us. The entire project, proposal, testing, and installation, was handled in an extremely professional and timely fashion. Thus, the decision to use ESCO for our relamping project proved to be an excellent one.

In closing, let me again say "Thank you" for taking our company's modernization project another step closer to completion.

Sincerely;

John A. Salce, President
